Area politician arrested in raid

A prominent area politician was arrested by Illinois State Police during a gambling raid early Friday morning in Madison.

Madison Alderman Don Garrett, 51, of 401 N. Second St., Madison, was arrested at the El Capaloro Lounge, 800 Jackson St. in Madison, and charged with keeping a place of gambling. Garrett, who also is a member of the Madison Board of Education and the Madison County Board, has denied the charge.

Garrett said he neither owns nor has an interest in the business and does not receive any financial gain from it.

The alderman's brother, John Garrett, leases the building and is not its owner, Don Garrett said. The latter did not identify the owner.

The liquor license for the lounge was removed by Madison police Friday afternoon until further notice.

State Police went to the West Madison lounge at 1:45 a.m. May 10, according to reports. The arrests reportedly followed an investigation by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

The arresting officers said they confiscated $932 in cash and a dice table as evidence.

Don Garrett said he feels the raid resulted from "political motivation out of Madison" and was done in an attempt to embarrass him and people associated with him in the community.

He denied being in the lounge when police arrived. He said he was a block away and noticed police cars there.

Thinking that perhaps a tragic event had occurred, he said, he went into the building to investigate. At this point he was told by a state policeman he would be arrested and charged with keeping a gambling place, Garrett said.

When asked if he had contacted the Madison County State's attorney about the arrest, Garrett said, "No, but I want to go to court and argue my own case in front of a judge."

Garrett said he will not seek to have the charges dropped and prefers to appear in court to avoid any appearance that charges were dismissed through some political arrangement.

Garrett said he believes the court date has been set for June 12 in Edwardsville.

Others arrested, and the charges against them, are:

Antonio Brown, 20, of 51 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, gambling and unlawful possession of cannabis; Jeffrey Mosby, 25, of 1126 College St., Venice, gambling; Claudette Garrett, 38, of 51 Venice Homes, Venice, gambling.

Sybil Banks, 22, of 427 Weaver St., Venice, gambling; Darryl Drayton, 29, of 810 Franklin St., Madison, gambling.

Ricardo Long, 21, of 54 Grenzer Homes, Madison, keeping a gambling place and a warrant for failure to appear at a hearing; Howard Rogaster, 46, of 1303 Oriole St., Venice, gambling; Andrew Price, 23, of 1131 Calhoun St., Venice, gambling.

Michael Anthony Garrett, 26, of 808 W. Madison St., Madison, gambling and unlawful possession of cannabis; Curtis Jenkins, 63, of 301 W. 3rd St., Madison, keeping a gambling place; and Anthony Parks, 21, East St. Louis, gambling and unlawful possession of cannabis.

Security guards and Granite City police were ready for trouble early Saturday morning at the Hope Clinic. Before the clinic's daily business began, two squad cars were strategically parked in the lot across from the clinic. Other police cars patrolled the street.

A clinic security guard, Jim Furlong, paced the sidewalk, flashlight in hand. He whacked at vines stretching out for light from a space between the sidewalk and building. They grow along the clinic wall.

Another security guard, Jim Chestley of Collinsville, stood at the back entrance. He carefully screened everyone who entered, exchanging nervous smiles and chatter.

Everyone waited for the picketers, but none showed as the clinic opened. Reporters, however, began to arrive with their notepads and cameras ready.

Chestley compared the anticipated event to a carnival, mainly conducted by people from St. Louis. He knew the main attraction, the picketers, wouldn't be deterred by the police — not so close to Mother's Day.

"They'd come if it was pouring down rain," he said.

A car pulled up and three Belleville women got out, one carrying what appeared to be a covered

Fifth grade class thinks their mom's the best

By DAVE WHALEY

Staff writer

Today is Mother's Day. No day in the year brings out more love for any segment of the population.

As far as mothers are concerned, every other day of the year is Children's Day, so it's only fair mothers get one day out of 365.

Students in Harriet Ward's fifth grade class at Maryville School in Granite City were asked to write why they thought their mom was the best. Incredibly, all of them actually thought their mom was the best.

We all think that, of course. But if you want to know which mom of the students of Mrs. Ward is the best, you can draw your own conclusions.

"My mom is the best because she helps me with my homework when I need her. She talks to me when I need her. She helps me and takes care of me when I'm ill. That's why my Mom is the Best."

Mechele Novosel

"My mom is the best because she is very trusty and trustworthy. My mom is also very generous because she gives whenever she can. My mother is very honest. She never lies to anybody. The best thing about my mom is I love her and she cares for me. The end."

Scott Tripp

"My mom is the best because she is nice when she thinks it's right. But when she's mean I know she's right because she's teaching me something. I know she always loves me too."

Amy Isenbarg

"My mom is the best because when I am down she is there to bring me back up. When I learned how to ride a bike my mom was there to help me. If I am sick my mom and dad will get me something to cheer me up. When my sister was on my motor bike and flit it my mom and dad was there to help. Sometimes when my sisters and I want something my mom and dad will get it for us. If it is boring my mom and dad will take us out to see a movie or get an ice cream."

Joey Boushaid

"My mom is the best because she cares about me. She does a lot of fun things with me. She takes me places with her, and she gives me allowance and she lets me go to skating parties and she's different from other moms. That's why I think my mom is the best."

Greg Argant

"Why I think my mom is the best is because she loves me and I love her. And I think she is the best."

mother that anybody could ever have. And she is what she is and nobody can change that. That's why I love her so much."

David Costello

"She always knows what's best for me, even when I disagree. She's always there when I need care. That's why I love my mother."

Athena Harris

"My Mom is best because she takes good care of me, she loves me a whole lot, she buys things for me, she lets me have friends over, she plays with me, she comes to my programs, she lets me join sports, she lets me pick out my clothes, she gives me allowance, she takes me a lot of places, she helps with my homework, she lets me go with my friends, she gives me good advice, she pays for my broken stuff, she helps me when I should be done, and she's a great mom. I love you, mom."

Ryan King

"Because she fixes me lunch, breakfast and dinner. When I have problems she usually solves it. She does most of the work around the house. When I do something wrong she usually straightens me out. That's why mom is the best."

Nathan Weaver

A Mother's Day fable

When the Good Lord was creating mothers he was into his sixth day of overtime when the angel appeared and said, "You're doing a lot of fiddling around on this one."

And the Lord said, "Have you read the specs on this order?"

She has to be completely washable, but not plastic. Have 130 movable parts...all replaceable. Run on leftovers and coffee. Have a lap that disappears when she stands up.

A kiss that can cure anything from a broken leg to a disappointed love affair. And six pairs of hands.

(See FABLE, Page 6A)

"I think my mom is the best because she takes my brother, my dad and I places. She also cooks, cleans, and is very loving towards my brother, my dad and me. I may say mean things to her sometimes but I really don't mean them."

Amy Chao

"I think my mom is the best because she has a lot of patience, she understands, and she's comforting. She helps me with problems and she's helped me in the rough times."

Jennifer Wordham

"I think my mom is the best because she's so nice. Even though sometimes she is mean. But usually when she's mean I've done something wrong. But when I think my mom is the best is when she is in a good mood."

Darla Bower

"One of the reasons I like my mom is she doesn't ever worry. I hate mothers who want to check for every little germ (he might get sick). And my mom just wants to know where I am. She also lets me get in squirt gun fights, where some mothers would say, 'You might get pneumonia,' when it's 95 degrees out. She lets me choose my own clothes. She understands I want freedom, and gives me limited freedom."

Grant Badger

"My mom is the best because she is nice, sweet and caring. She even let me keep a stray dog. When I'm in the toughest spots, she gets me out of them. One day I asked her if I could go to a modeling school. Even if she didn't let me, she still is the best."

Kara Smith

"My mom is the best because she helps me when I need it, she takes me places, she cooks meals, and she does many more things that make her a very special mom."

Shelly Wilbur

"She is nice but she may get mad at me and my brother. She takes care of my brother and I. She makes cake for our birthday. She doesn't buy them. I think my mom is very nice to us."

Jay Harris

"My mom is the best because she is nice, sweet, loving and funny. She makes the best spaghetti. She tries to keep the house clean but I bet it's hard with me around."

Amy Starko

"She's always there when I need her. She helps me with my homework. She cooks me supper. She washes my clothes. She's loving, she's caring, she's my mom."

Bombed while out fishing; wasn't fun

Washington — Like thousands of fishermen every year, Lyle Henry, his two sons and a friend thought Pamlico Sound — between the North Carolina mainland and the Outer Banks south of Roanoke Island — would be a great place to drop the line on a fine day last October. They anchored their 17-foot boat near an old sunken ship about 2:30 p.m.

Jack Anderson

Before anyone had gotten so much as a nibble, the afternoon calm was shattered by the thunder of jets skimming low overhead — so close they could see the pilots waving in apparent greeting. The four fishermen, all military veterans, shrugged off the buzzing as nothing to worry about.

But the planes soon reappeared — and this time two of them dropped bombs that landed within 50 feet of the little craft. The Henrys quickly started the motor and sped off, but a third plane dropped a bomb that nearly hit the boat.

"Some of the contents of the bomb struck me on my right arm," Henry, 60, told our associate Corky Johnson. "I picked up an old piece of towel, and while hanging over the side of the boat I made an attempt to wash and remove the material that was sticking to my wrist. I could not get it off by rubbing it with the towel and using water." The stuff stuck like tar, he said.

One of the Henry boys, Larry, was coughing violently from the acrid smoke released by the third bomb. When the fishing party made it to shore and told their hair-raising story to the proprietor of a bait shop, they learned what had happened: They had unwittingly gone fishing in a large Navy bombing range adjoining the Cape Hatteras National Seashore Recreation Area.

When they got home to Logan, W. Va., Henry Sr. realized that the sticky substance on his arm had eaten the flesh to the bone. Doctors identified the chemical as phosphorus, an ingredient in practice bombs that requires special burn treatment. Even after several operations and weeks of therapy, Henry is afraid he'll lose his arm from infection.

His son Larry, meanwhile, developed pneumonia from the chemical smoke. It lasted two months and he coughed blood.

Henry's sons, both West Virginia state policemen, said the aerial attack appeared to be deliberate. "We tried to get out of the way, but they dove at us," Larry told us. "They knew we were there."

A spokesman for the bombing range insisted the area was posted, but the Henrys said they saw no warning signs. Local residents said two warning towers were blown down several years ago and were never replaced. The locals said they've had their own problems with buzzing planes; one woman said she had twice been driven off the road by jets flying at her in a terrifying game of aerial "chicken."

The Navy is investigating the Henry incident. Marine planes from nearby Cherry Point reportedly landed in the air at the time. A Marine spokesman said that practice bombs pack about as much wallop as a cherry-bomb firecracker. But cherry bombs don't contain phosphorus.

BACKROOM DEAL: Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., has quietly been put in charge of arms-control matters on the Foreign Relations Committee — much to the dismay of critics and some colleagues who know him as a determined opponent of arms agreements with the Soviets.

Helms is the senior member of the committee, but he waived the chairmanship so he could remain head of the Agriculture Committee and protect his tobacco-growing North Carolina constituents.

No senator may be chairman of more than one committee — or of two subcommittees on the same committee. Helms was already chairman of the Latin American subcommittee, so he couldn't take over arms control as well.

But the new committee chairman, Richard Lugar, R-Ind., — who owes his chairmanship to Helms' refusal to exercise seniority — obligingly gave Helms the supervision of arms control he wanted. Lugar managed it by reorganizing the arms-control subcommittee out of existence and privately assuring Helms that he would be informally in charge of arms control, which is now officially handled by the committee as a whole.

IT'S A REAGAN ADVANCE TEAM... HE WANTS TO MAKE AN OFFICIAL VISIT TO PATCH UP RELATIONS.

Reagan gaffes in movies, too

Art Buchwald

(c) 1985, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

President Reagan has had a great deal of difficulty in the past few weeks with the history of World War II. His first gaffe was to believe that German and American soldiers were buried in the same cemeteries in Germany and could presumably be honored at the same time. His second one was to say that very few of today's Germans remember the war and certainly none of the adults now living participated in any way.

And finally, he really flunked the course when he said the soldiers buried at Bitburg were just as much victims of the war as people who died in the Holocaust.

Who is one to make of the President's blunders? There may be clues in a book titled "The Films of Ronald Reagan" by Tony Thomas, published by Citadel Press (1984).

Despite being under contract to Warner Brothers, Mr. Reagan did not play in as many World War II movies as one might think. Yet his view of the war and the Nazis could easily have been formed by the ones he did appear in.

In 1941 Ronald Reagan went into action for the first time in a film titled "International Squadron." Mr. Reagan played a daredevil American stunt pilot who ferries a bomber to the RAF in England. Once there he witnesses a child killed in an air raid and joins the RAF to get even with the Nazis. But Reagan doesn't take his flying job seriously and while he's messing around with a French pilot's girlfriend he misses a mission. His American best friend substitutes for him and is killed.

This sobers him up as far as World War II is concerned. He decides to atone for his tacky behavior by knocking out the French pilot and taking his mission. After shooting down several German fighter planes in a smashing dogfight, Reagan dies a fiery heroic death. The important thing to remember is, while there was lots of talk of German bad guys, Reagan never got to meet one personally in the film.

To my knowledge the only time Ronald Reagan ever came face-to-face with the Nazis was in "Desperate Journey," made in 1942. He co-stars with Errol Flynn as part of the crew of a RAF Flying Fortress. In the film Reagan plays a brash, amusing, irreverent but very brave Yank.

After the RAF plane drops its bombs on Germany it is shot down and the crew are rounded up by a German major (Raymond Massey). The German military in "Desperate Journey" are portrayed not so much as villains as they are bumbling and idiots. (The picture was the "Hogan's Heroes" of its time.) Reagan's big scene he is being debriefed alone by the major, who thinks the Yank will tell him everything he wants to know about the mission. Instead Ronnie knocks out Massey, and then sits down and eats the major's breakfast.

After this hilarious scene Reagan and the crew find it a breeze to escape and make their way across all of Germany, blowing up half the country with violent acts of sabotage. In a slam-bang finish they manage to steal a German bomber and take off for England with Errol Flynn at the controls. Having wiped out Germany, Flynn turns to Reagan and says, "Now for Australia and a crack at the Japs."

That, as far as I know, was Ronald Reagan's only Hollywood action in the European theater during World War II. He did serve honorably in Burma in "The Hasty Heart" and in the Korean theater in an MGM film titled "Prisoner of War," which was so bad that it is said it hastened Mr. Reagan's decision to go into politics. The President's finest hour was "Hellcats of the Navy," in which Reagan was cast as a naval commander on a sub in the Pacific who wreaks havoc on the Japanese fleet. Not only did Mr. Reagan win the war, but he also won the girl, a nurse played by Nancy Davis, who is now our First Lady of the land.

I detail the films that Mr. Reagan played in for only one reason. It appears the President's Hollywood war record, while distinguished, certainly did not prepare him in any way or shape for the 40th anniversary of the end of the hostilities with Nazi Germany. It also might explain why Mr. Reagan is so ignorant of World War II history. Even a bit part in "The Battle of the Bulge" would have made him realize that visiting a German military cemetery where SS soldiers are buried is just not the right thing for an American President to do.

Paul Harvey likes animals and laboratory scientists

Paul Harvey

Paul Harvey's comment has tried to be fair and still will.

Despite my personal empathy for suffering animals I have consistently defended the medical necessity for some laboratory experiments involving animals.

But some lab scientists are now an intolerable embarrassment to their longtime supporters.

As one for-instance, the redundant, repetitive experiments in the Gennarelli Laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania are hideously remindful of Auschwitz, Dachau and Buchenwald.

There, too, torture tests and agony-unto-death were defended in the name of "science."

Your taxes are paying for some monstrous medical experiments which you are supposed neither to see nor know about.

Indeed, when a committee of the U.S. Congress contemplated this subject even the committee was not allowed to see videotapes of this Pennsylvania laboratory.

Both the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health decreed that the film must not be shown on Capitol Hill.

While many medical laboratories are torturing animals, from this one videotaped evidence is available.

If you wish more graphic detail than I am willing to relate, you can secure same from PETA — People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals — P.O. Box 42516, Washington, D.C. 20015.

I am now taking sides. Our family has created a foundation the specific purpose of which is to encourage the humane treatment of animals. As is 150 living creatures are sacrificed every minute, at a cost of $7 billion a year, and two-thirds of that money is your tax money.

Some lab attendants hear so many screams either they can't hear anymore or can't take anymore.

There is an ongoing holocaust which somebody must hear and heed and resist.

Catch criminal, not victim

To the Editor:

Many politicians don't have their priorities right when it comes to dealing with crime.

They seem to think that failure to fasten a seatbelt in our cars is a dastardly felony that must be stopped at all costs. No doubt after this legislative exercise in big-brotherism is over, we will next turn to legislation requiring us to wear our overshoes when it rains.

Seatbelts are not the only "solution" to violent crime we have seen our politicians come up with recently. No doubt, one of the most awesome efforts to combat muggings and other violent crimes occurred in New York when 1,300 policemen were detailed to apprehend Bernhard Goetz, the subway victim.

Cook County, Ill., was the scene of an even more recent capture of a victim by the authorities.

Philip Roos, administrative director of the Christian Liberty Academy Satellite Schools, was frustrated by the Cook County sheriff department's repeated failures to apprehend a "peeping Tom" who had been frightening his daughters.

In February of this year, it happened again. Roos had his wife call the sheriff while he took his loaded .38 Smith & Wesson for protection as he went outside to try and catch the peeper. The peeping Tom fled, and as Roos walked down the street in search of the criminal, the police arrived.

Roos was told by the policeman who was pointing a gun at him to put his gun on the ground. Roos replied that the crook was getting away. The policeman responded, "Drop it, or you're dead." Roos quickly complied.

After the police captured Roos, they handcuffed him and took him to the precinct for booking. Happily, the charges were dropped when Roos went to court.

Politicians for too long have pressured the police to catch victims instead of criminals. It is time for Americans to be encouraged to carry firearms, not be discouraged.

It is not time to send the police out after "seatbelt bandits" while real crooks are breaking faces and lives.

Rev. Wilson joins Park Board

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Madison County Deputy Sheriff Harold Wilson Sr. was appointed to the Venice Board of Park Commissioners at its meeting Thursday night.

REV. WILSON

He replaces Arnold Johnson, who was elected to a two-year term on the board in the April 2 election. Johnson resigned April 30 to accept the newly-created post of Venice Park District manager.

An ordained minister, the Rev. Wilson has served as assistant pastor of New Hope Fellowship Church in Edwardsville since his ordination in May 1983 at Calvary Temple Church in Springfield, Ill.

His church is described as the first black Assembly of God Church to be established in the northern section of the bi-state metropolitan area.

A swearing-in ceremony was conducted Thursday by Marie Nelson, park board secretary, and Rev. Wilson was congratulated on his appointment by the Rev. John Henry Williams, board president.

"Harold will be a great asset to the board and to the Venice Park District," the president said.

Rev. Wilson, 41, has been employed as a Madison

County sheriff's deputy for the past 12 years.

He is president of the Venice Community Utility Board and a former president of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The new park board member holds a master's degree in education with emphasis in counseling from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He received a bachelor's degree in the administration of justice from McKendree College in Lebanon.

Since joining the sheriff's department in 1973, Rev. Wilson also has earned an associate degree in law enforcement from Belleville Area College.

He enlisted in the Army in 1965, completing paratrooper training and schooling as a helicopter technician prior to being assigned to the 101st Airborne Division.

He served tours of duty in the Far East and Africa and for a time was based at the American Embassy in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Before joining the county's law enforcement unit, Rev. Wilson was employed by the U. S. Post Office from 1968 to 1973 and previously worked for General Motors Corp. in St. Louis.

He has been a resident of Venice almost all of his life. The minister and his wife, the former Lois Collins, are the parents of three children, Harelyn, Shawndell and Harold Jr.

Mrs. Wilson is one of three Venice women primarily responsible for helping to organize the successful Neighborhood Watch/Crime Blockers' citizen involvement program. She also is active in current clean-up and beautification projects in the community.

Madison bike-a-thon May 18

Madison area youngsters are being invited to participate in the 1985 Cystic Fibrosis bike-a-thon at the Madison City Hall on Saturday, May 18, from 10:30 a.m. to noon. The event is open to anyone wishing to help the children and young adults who suffer from cystic fibrosis, a fatal lung and digestive damaging disease.

Dr. Alice Purdes, chairman of the bike-a-thon, commented, "When you participate on Saturday, you'll be doing what a lot of kids with CF wish they could do."

"There are many youngsters in this country who can't participate because their health won't let them."

They need our help for research to find a cure for cystic fibrosis, and medical care that helps them live longer."

Pre-registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. at 3rd Street and Madison Avenue. At that time, participants will pick up identification labels and lap cards.

The lap cards will be signed by officials at designated intervals along the bike route. The route to be followed will be prescribed by the police department.

"You can ride the route as many times as desired. Refreshments will be served to riding participants," the chairman said.

To enter the bike-a-thon, residents of Madison are to obtain sponsor sheets at the Board of Education office, 1707 Fourth St., Madison, from their classroom teacher, or from Dr. Purdes at the Venice Lincoln Technical Center on South 4th Street in Venice, 874-7792.

After obtaining sponsors among friends, relatives and neighbors, participants will ride for a minimum of 10 cents per mile. After the bike-a-thon, pledges will be collected based on the number of miles each participant rides.

Prizes will be awarded to participants based on the money raised.

GCC's first graduates honored

The first graduates of Belleville Area College's Granite City Center (GCC) will be honored at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 13.

Eighty-five graduates will be recognized as charter graduates of GCC.

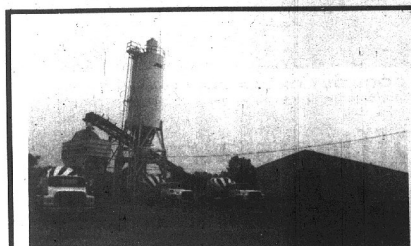

GCC Provost Don Kassing said the recognition program is special.

"It's exciting that our 1985 graduates are the first to come out of GCC since the center started two years ago," he said. Two years of instruction are provided as part of the associate degree program.

"Seven or eight years from now, when we have 5,000 to 6,000 students, these 1985 graduates will look back and see that they helped start a college. They will see that they have had an intricate part in helping the center get that start," Kassing said.

Fine Arts Festival at GCHS Thursday

Granite City High School will present its annual "Fine Arts Festival" on Thursday, May 16, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The festival will consist of a large art exhibit presented by the students of the art department and a band concert honoring the senior members and featuring the wind ensemble, a select group of musicians from the band.

Senior band members are Lisa Belovich flute, Stephen Branding trumpet, Greg Campos percussion, Lesley Goforth clarinet, David Birkhead trumpet, Daniel Jorgensen tuba, John Kirkpatrick trombone, Stephanie Louacheff clarinet, Robert Malench percussion, Danny Phillips clarinet, Barry Rideout tuba, Chris Sowrey French horn, Michelle Staggs clarinet, Ruth Stille bass clarinet, Richard Sutton percussion and Stacy Tucker percussion.

Joe Owens, band director, commented, "This final concert will include marches and music from Mozart to Chuck Mangione. I hope we have a good response from the parents for this final performance."

The concert will be in the auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students or a season ticket.

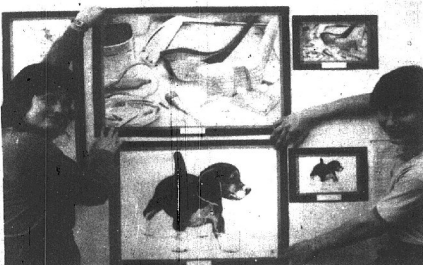

The art show will use all three art rooms to display freshman, sophomore and senior work. Graduating seniors with majors in art will have their own displays set up in the main corridor. The show is free and will be open throughout the evening so the public attending the concert may view the art exhibit before and after the concert.

The show will include over 1,000 artworks done during this school year. Techniques included will be tempera, pencil, watercolors, oil paintings, pen and ink, scratch board, printmaking, charcoal, gouache, brayer, oil pastel, ceramics, jewelry, collage and mixed media.

Senior art majors displaying their work will be Mary Dennison, Brian Harris, Chris James, Brian Meyer, Craig Miles, Susan Mitchell, Pete Moore, Jill Padgett, Rich Planatz, Eric Rainwater, Judy Rolen, John Rutledge, Alan Schubert, Sheila Smick, Lisa Spiller, Jeff Stewart, Bob Wilds and Dave Wilmouth.

The art faculty will be present to answer questions about individual works or to handle inquiries about purchasing student work. The faculty consists of Tony Belancourt, Bob Moske, Ann Rich and Phyllis Weiss.

"We are proud of the quality of work done by our students," department head Ann Rich said. "I hope citizens of Granite City will come out and give these talented artists the recognition they deserve for their year-long effort in art."

ART DISPLAY is completed by two local artists in preparation for the Fine Arts Festival at GCHS Thursday night. Della Corbitt and John Hanks stand beside their creations.

GOOD GUY OR BAD GUY? Patrolman Timothy Lyerla is confronted with a tricky target.

Officers aim for shooting accuracy

It's one thing to be able to shoot a weapon accurately. It's another thing to be able to shoot a weapon accurately in a stressful situation. Members of local police departments learned that maxim during a course sponsored by the Southern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) last week at the Granite City Army Depot.

The course is known as FIST, or Firearms Intensified Stress Training.

The course consists of portable building fronts, automatic targets pop up at windows and doors, confronting officers with images of either criminals or innocent occupants.

Instant recognition and decisions are required of the officers, who must either shoot the criminal or hold fire on the non-criminals.

During the two-minute stress maneuver, officers are required to run 100 feet, shoot six rounds at six bowling pins, reload, and then go through the building front maze.

Scoring is achieved by the officer's ability to hit the bowling pins and criminal targets. Bonus points are offered for hitting the criminal target's "kill zone," but are subtracted if non-criminals are fired at. Officers are required to put two rounds into each criminal target. The highest possible score is 150 points.

The course is tricky, since some of the targets are innocent at times and criminals at other times. For instance, one woman target is shown with a gun sometimes, and at other times the target displays a police badge as well as a gun.

Another target requires extreme shooting accuracy, since the criminal target is shown holding a gun to the head of a female hostage.

Police officers must go through the course twice in the FIST program to complete their certification. This was the first time the FIST program had been brought to the Granite City area. Instructor for the course was J.W. "Skip" Bennett of SILEC.

Officers present at the training course said they enjoyed the challenge of the FIST program, especially the maze sequence.

"This course really challenges your ability," said Patrolman Mike Hill. "You have to make split-second decisions and be accurate with your shots at the same time."

Granite City police officers are required to take some type of enforcement agency sponsored firearms training twice a year.

TAKING AIM. Granite City Police Sergeant David Ruebhausen eyes his target during a firearm training course sponsored by the Southern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission at the Granite City Army Depot. The black marks evident on bowling pins represent shots on target.

Closing programs for students in Madison

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

Students attending Madison schools have been participating in a busy schedule of events in conjunction with the final month of school. Many are preparing for graduation on Friday, May 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

One of the planned activities involves helium balloons, tied with special messages from students of Chapter 1 reading classes. The balloons are to be released Thursday, May 23, from the Blair School playground immediately following the award day assembly.

The annual Recognition and Awards Day for Madison Middle School pupils is planned on Thursday, May 30.

A mock trial was conducted May 1 by the Madison County Bar Association for high school students to orient the pupils in "the American judicial system in action."

Another activity on that day was the Rotary-sponsored Career Awareness Experience for junior students. Attending were 30 students from Madison and 10 from Venice. They visited area business places. The Madison High School band performed its final concert of the year May 2 and the junior-senior prom was held May 3 in Meridian

Ballroom of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Middle School band played its final concert on May 7 and the physical education department provided a dance exhibition during the program.

Achievement testing was conducted last week at Harris and Blair schools. Students attending those schools, as well as Louis Baer School, will take field trips on various dates this month.

The Blair Parent-Teacher Club marked its 25th anniversary at a banquet Friday night, May 10. The first president, Lonnie Littlejohn of Cleveland, Ohio, returned to Madison to attend the event.

Teachers retiring at the end of this school term include Nick Bogovich, Middle School special education teacher. He has been teaching here since 1971, starting at Louis Baer School, and then went to the Middle School. He and his wife, Della, have a son, Nicholas, of California.

Addie Darden, assistant Chapter 1 director and kindergarten teacher at Blair School, will retire after 40 years. She began teaching at Dunbar School in 1947 and in 1977 became the assistant to Wade James in the Chapter 1 program. She also taught for two years in Nashville, Tenn., before moving to this area. She and her husband, Robert, are the parents of a daughter, Willa Mohammed of Silver Springs, Md. They have three grandchildren.

Mrs. Darden will be honored at a retirement dinner planned for Friday, May 24, at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

Wade James, assistant superintendent of Madison public schools, will retire with 38 years' experience at the end of this school year. After working for the Veterans Administration in Pennsylvania, he began teaching the sixth grade at Dunbar School in 1947. In 1959, he became principal of Dunbar and he was named administrative assistant in 1970 and assistant superintendent in 1974.

James played professional baseball and collegiate football and basketball and coached athletics. During World War II, he served with the Army Air Corps. He and his wife, Hilda, have a son, Harold "Bunky" James of Eagan, Minn.

A dinner party is planned for 6:30 p.m. Friday, May 17, at the Madison Lions Club to honor him on his school career.

Madison schools will close on Friday, May 31, and students will return to classes on Aug. 26 to begin the fall term.

Methodists to hear missionaries

The Rev. and Mrs. Bob Taber, missionary representatives of OMS International with headquarters in Greenwood, Ind., will present a missionary program at the Madison United Methodist Church, 5th Street and Ewing Avenue, Madison, at a potluck supper Saturday, May 18, at 6 p.m.

The Tabers also will speak at morning services of the church at 9:30 Sunday and at the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, Dewey Avenue and 22nd Street, Granite City, at 10:50 a.m. Sunday, May 19.

Since 1965 they have served as Midwest regional directors of U.S. Ministries for OMS. He is now responsible for mission representation in the region and assists missionary candidates and flourishing personnel in their ministries.

Mrs. Taber, drawing from her experiences as a schoolteacher, pastor's wife and mother, is in demand as a women's speaker, and plans and directs an extensive women's outreach.

Together they give leadership to mission conferences, seminars, retreats, church and home ministries, and often minister through vocal music.

A meeting of mayors

Upjohn of Programs and Services for Older Persons at Belleville Area College; Emylee Allford of the advisory board of the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program; Marilyn Svien, director of RSVP; Madeline Simpson, director of Senior Aides at BAC; and Myrna Kesterson, field coordinator of RSVP.

BAC offering enough for center, says Hogan

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

Granite City School Board President Kelly Hogan said he is satisfied with the amount of money being offered by Belleville Area College for the Granite City Center campus.

But Hogan said he would like BAC to offer more in non-cash items, such as tuition for high school students who might attend vocational classes at the center.

BAC made an offer to purchase the center, which formerly was Granite City High School North, and 30 acres of the campus property, but the school board declined to respond to the offer at the May 7 board meeting.

"I don't think there is going to be a problem in reaching an agreement," Hogan said. "I hope each board member will take the offer home, decide what they want and come back with ideas at the next meeting."

Hogan stressed the importance of high school enrollment at the center.

"If you go there as a high school student, it's more likely you would think about going back there for your college education," he said. "So that's something the BAC people should realize. Better terms for high school students could mean more enrollment for them a couple of years down the line."

The cash, Hogan said, is not as important.

"The money looks good," he said of the cash offer made by BAC; the amount has not been publicly disclosed. "But there are other things I think would be more desirable to us than cash. I know some people would think I'm an idiot for turning down cash, but there are some drawbacks."

Hogan said the district would have the option to repurchase the building if BAC decided to move out in the future. "But if the district doesn't have the cash on hand to make the purchase at that time, it won't be able to buy it," he said.

"I would say it is improbable that would happen, but it's not impossible. I think the people should know we won't automatically get it back. We can only buy it if we can."

The concept of the sale is agreeable to both sides, he said.

"I don't think there's much doubt both sides want to go through with the transfer," he said. "It's just a matter now of putting all the details together."

The former high school has been leased for the past two years as the local center of the college district's two-year instructional program. State funding for remodeling is available for buildings owned by colleges but not those owned by public school systems.

Swimming classes in June

"Can you save a friend who may be drowning? Could your friend save you, if you were drowning? Don't take that risk," a Tri-City Area YMCA spokesman is urging.

Swimming classes begin June 10 and end June 14, with 6 sessions in the morning and 6 sessions in the afternoon for children and youths. Those who learn to swim may continue through polliwog, guppy, minnow, fish, flying fish, shark, porpoise and lifesaving classes.

On buying GCC

Survey shows public support

Results of a survey done by Public Response Inc. of St. Louis about the Granite City Center were released this week.

The survey, which consisted of 201 telephone interviews completed April 24-26 using a random digit dial sample, showed respondents were generally in favor of a transfer of title of the GCC campus from the Granite City School District to Belleville Area College.

BAC has offered to purchase the property from the district, so BAC can get state funding to do $6.5 million in renovation and repairs. BAC currently leases the property from the school district.

Four basic themes emerged from the survey:

1. There is widespread acceptance and belief in the need for a community college in the area, with 80.8

percent saying a full-service community college is either very or moderately important to the Granite City area.

2. There is a high positive evaluation of BAC and GCC. Respondents were asked to rate several colleges in the region, including the University of Illinois, BAC, GCC, Lewis and Clark Community College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

BAC got the highest percentage of excellent or good ratings (72.4 percent), followed by SIUE (69.4 percent) and then GCC (62.4 percent), compared to 51.5 percent for the U. of I.

3. Majority support exists for BAC ownership of the Granite City High School North building, with 57.8 percent of the respondents either favoring or strongly favoring the idea of giving the building to BAC, with 35.8 percent opposed or strongly opposed.

When the idea of BAC paying $500,000 to the Granite City School District is introduced, over 70 percent of the respondents favor the move.

4. Widespread support exists for arguments in support of BAC's ownership of the building, with 64.1 percent agreeing that Granite City needs a full range of community college services and this is a good way of having that without paying for a brand new facility.

A majority (61.8 percent) felt it was important for BAC to own and improve the building to avoid deterioration of the building.

Only 13.9 percent agreed there are better uses for the building than a community college.

Summer 'Y' memberships

The Tri-City Area YMCA is now offering three-month memberships for the summer. Designed specifically with college students in mind, the three-month membership is being called an ideal way to stay in shape physically during the summer months.

A three month, individual Nautilus membership is $75, and a three-month family Nautilus membership is $125.

Individual physical memberships are $50, and family physical memberships are $75 for the summer.

Registration for three-month memberships will continue through June 15 at the YMCA, 876-7200.

Union Electric rate hike will affect area

Union Electric Co. on May 8 was granted an overall 46 percent rate increase over the next four years for its Illinois customers, including areas of Chouteau Township here. Most of the increase will pay for the newly-opened Callaway nuclear power plant.

The rate hike authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission is regarded as below a 65 percent, eight-year increase approved last month in Missouri by that state's Public Service Commission.

The first-year rate boost for Illinois customers is an overall 15.9 percent rise but 19.9 percent for residential customers.

A spokesman said the ICC reduced by nearly 28 percent UE's request to raise Illinois revenues by $77 million. It allowed a $56 million increase but ordered that this be phased in over the next four years to ease the impact on customers.

For a family currently paying $46.56 per month for 700 kilowatt hours of electricity, the bill will rise by $16 a month during the summer and by $5.63 a month next winter.

BEER IN AUTO ALLEGED

Two persons were arrested May 10 at Missouri Avenue and W. 22nd Street after police allegedly found an open container of beer in a car. Janet R. Shiley, 19, of 2423 Edison Ave. was charged with transporting beer and Armand A. Kachigian, 21, of 2860 State St. was charged with possessing beer.

CRUELTY IS CHARGED

A Granite City man was charged with cruelty to a child and resisting a peace officer after he allegedly beat five children with a paddle. Gary Krich, 33, of 2241 Monroe St. pleaded innocent to both charges and was transferred to the Madison County jail.

ARRESTED FOR BATTERY

Two men in a shooting incident at the 19th Hole Tavern, 24th Street and Washington Avenue, May 10 signed battery allegations against each other. They were Michael K. Heatherly, 23, of 2147 Woodlawn Ave. and John S. Hartline, 25, of 3814 Lake St., Pontoon Beach.

BURGLARY AT GO HOME

Several items were taken in a burglary at the home of Sylvia Ramsey, 4100 St. Clair Ave., May 7. Entry was apparently gained through a window. Missing are a 19-inch black and white television, a stereo car radio, a stereo cassette, a hammer drill, $274 in cash and $145 in food stamps.

Jail sergeant files discrimination suit

A Madison County jail sergeant has filed suit against the sheriff's office because she wasn't promoted to lieutenant a year ago.

But Sheriff Emil Toffant said he has notified Sgt. Joyce Rathmann that she will be a lieutenant effective May 15.

Rathmann, of Granite City, filed the suit May 7 alleging that she had applied for the jail lieutenant's post, was qualified, but was denied the promotion because of her gender.

The suit seeks more than $15,000 in damages and other relief.

But Toffant, reached Friday, said he had not been served with the suit yet.

He explained that because of a new program at the jail, another lieutenant was needed, and Rathmann was picked for the job. He said he called her and notified her that her promotion would be effective May 15.

The next day, Toffant said, he learned that Rathmann had filed suit because of the earlier promotion denial. But the suit may not affect this promotion.

"I haven't changed my mind yet," Toffant said.

Protest peaceful at abortion clinic

sign. She removed the wrapping to reveal a picture of Christ.

"We're going to have a prayer service," said the woman with the picture, Dorothy Feder. "All we'll do is walk around and say prayers."

Like Joshua at Jericho, she hoped the walls would come down.

As the three began to walk, others joined them. There was Maria Camillo of Collinsville, Ignatius Shambro of O'Fallon, and several persons from Belleville and other communities, including St. Louis, as the picketing began.

Some of the picketers were quiet, refusing to give their names to avoid publicity. Others were outspoken in their contempt for abortion.

Camillo said when she first saw the clinic she was afraid. She considers abortion evil.

"They're talking about Reagan (visiting a Nazi cemetery), this is like Auschwitz here," Camillo said.

Other picketers expressed outrage concerning the decision last week by Madison County Associate Judge Jonathan Isbell to stop 18 pro-lifers from protesting at the clinic.

Though not among those ordered not to picket near the clinic, Feder said, "We're not doing anything wrong. We're not doing anything illegal."

The judge issued a temporary restraining order so the 18 cannot picket within 100 yards of the clinic. A hearing is set for Wednesday in Alton.

Among the most prominent names of those receiving restraining orders were Rev. Edwin F. Arentsen of Adleville, who has been arrested several times at the clinic, and Sandra Climaco of rural Belleville, a three-time contender for the Democratic Party's nod in the 21st Congressional District.

Reached at home Saturday morning prior to the demonstration, Climaco said she considered joining the abortion protest in spite of the restraining order. However, she said members of the pro-life movement asked her not to risk being arrested.

Climaco said the restraining order stunned some of the 18 persons who received them.

"Most of the people who got them are really frightened about them. I'm not," said Climaco. "I don't think it's legal or constitutional."

At the clinic, a couple of women pulled up in a van. A guitar was removed from its case and the women began singing.

The protestors marched. The police watched. The reporters took pictures and notes. Business within the clinic continued.

No one was arrested.

Fable of Mother's Day

The angel shook her head slowly and said, "Six pair of hands...no way."

"It's not the hands that are causing me problems," said the Lord. "It's the three pairs of eyes mothers have to have."

"That's on the standard model?" asked the angel.

The Lord nodded. "One pair that sees through closed doors when she asks, 'What are you kids doing in there?' when she already knows."

Another here in the back of her head that sees what she shouldn't but what she has to know, and of course the ones here in front that can look at a child when he goes up and says, 'I understand and I love you' without so much as uttering a word."

"Lord," said the angel, touching

His sleeve gently. "Go to bed. Tomorrow..."

"I can't," said the Lord. "I'm so close to creating something so close to myself. Already I have one who heals herself when she is sick...can feed a family of six on one pound of hamburger...and can get a 9-year-old to stand under a shower."

Finally, the angel bent over and ran her finger across the cheek. "There's a leak," she pronounced. "I told you you were trying to put too much into this model."

"It's not a leak," said the Lord. "It's a tear."

"What's it for?"

"It's for joy, sadness, disappointment, pain, loneliness and pride."

"You are a genius," said the angel.

The Lord looked somber. "I didn't put it there."

Cruse:

The transition completed, Granite City's new mayor begins his task

CRUSE BEGINS his day at the office.

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

The transition is complete. On April 2, Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse defeated incumbent Mayor Paul Schuler and two other challengers to become the 20th mayor of Granite City. Since then, Cruse has been referred to as the "mayor-elect," who wouldn't take office until May 7. May 7 finally came last week, and Cruse was sworn in at the City Council meeting that night. Wednesday, he moved into the second-floor office at City Hall that had been Schuler's for the past 12 years. He is now Mayor Von Dee Cruse. The office is still clean, probably cleaner than it will be at any time in the next four years. Time has not allowed the paperwork to stack up yet, but the new chief executive's workload is anything but light.

What with all the controversies over liquor licenses in grocery stores and new appointments for city employees, Cruse's first few days have been anything but quiet. "There are a lot of little things to attend to," Cruse said Friday. "But I knew most of that going in." Above all else, Cruse will meet the people of Granite City. If you're an assessor, people came to see you if they had a problem with their taxes. But as mayor, people will come to you about practically anything. "I don't mind talking to people if they know what they are talking about," he said. "If I have the time, I'm happy to meet with them." There are ribbon-cuttings, proclamations to sign, meetings with department heads, City Council meetings, hand-shakings with well-wishing citizens, discussions with unhappy citizens, and thousands of other details to attend to. But Granite City's new mayor asked for it last summer when he announced his candidacy. And now he's got it and he shows no signs of regret. Cruse seems ready to turn his words into action. Of course, it helps to have a sense of humor. After simulating the signing of a city license for a photographer last week, Cruse looked down at the license, feigned surprise, and said, "Oh, that was a Schnuck's liquor license." If Cruse can joke about all the issues he will confront the next four years, there will be a lot of joking going on. As long as he mixes sound judgment with the jokes, the city should be all right.

NEW PARENTS, Mr. and Mrs. John T. (Marta) Papa of Madison, became the parents of their first child, a girl, April 30 at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis. The infant has been named Jessica Marie and weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Walton, Morton, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Papa, Madison. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Helen Papa, Madison, Mrs. Naomi Schwein, Granite City, and Mrs. Pearl Hatcher, Morton.

MR. AND MRS. Roger J. (Susan) Hinson of Granite City named their first child Erik Michael Willette. He was born April 27 at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, and weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Barbara) Hinson, Granite City, Mrs. Wilma J. Willette, Staunton, Ill., and Robert J. Willette, Edwardsville.

The father of the infant is serving with the U.S. Army at Fort Belvoir.

VEGETABLE GARDENS will be planted by members of the Willing Workers of America to help meet the need for food distributions to unemployed workers. This is the third year for the gardening project, President Steve Ortiz announced at a monthly meeting of the organization.

The group will participate in a craft show June 30 at 10 a.m. at the YMCA as a fund-raising project.

Jim Gavin, program director of the "Y," explained the volunteer program at the local YMCA and Dana Kesner reviewed a Land of Lincoln Legal Aid advisory council meeting.

The next Willing Workers meeting is set for May 18 at 10 a.m. at the YMCA and anyone who is unemployed is invited to attend.

SEEKING MEMBERS, the Venice Lions Club currently is registering prospective new members. Earl W. Hogan, club president, said.

Anyone interested in membership or seeking information may call Lion Gene Jacks at 452-2362. The club meetings are conducted on the second Wednesday and fourth Thursday of each month at the Venice Recreation Center.

SCOUT PILGRIMAGE participation by Boy Scout Troop 46, sponsored by the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, took place April 28. The scouts went to the 1985 Lincoln Pilgrimage in Springfield.

James Steitl, president of Bankwork in Jackson, Mo., was chairman of the event and Roland

W. Burris, Illinois state comptroller, delivered the Lincoln tribute address.

The scouts and Camp Fire groups then marched 10 abreast on a 1½-mile parade route, following a 500-flag color guard to the state capitol, where they passed in review.

PRATHER PTA ELECTED James Barnes president of the unit for the next school year. He will serve with Cathy Dineff, vice president, Jolene Terrell, recording secretary, Susie Hokek, corresponding secretary, and Judy Russell, treasurer.

Katie Wilson and Jolene Terrell attended the state PTA convention in Chicago in April. It was noted the fifth grade class is printing a monthly newspaper called the Prather Press.

It was related that an Area PTA Council blood drive produced 111 pints of blood. Andrea Fonville won an award in literature in a district contest.

In regard to a project to start work on a playground, Dorothy Bailey showed slides of the building and playground area. Parents are being asked to assist with the program.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 14 at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria and all parents are being invited to attend, the president said.

Recital by music students May 19

Jewel Everett's students will give a recital May 19, at 2 p.m. at First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

The last number on the program will be the first movement of Grieg's Concerto in A Minor. Bryce Moore will be at the organ and Darren Bernak at the piano. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

Volunteers needed

The Granite City chapter of the Association for the Protection of Animals is seeking volunteers to help solicit funds for its annual fund-raising event.

For more information, or to volunteer, interested persons may call Sherry Harper at 345-8759.

Outdoor Bible drama

First Assembly of God, 1105 W. Belt Line, Collinsville, will present "The Greatest Story — Life of Christ," an outdoor drama, on Saturday, May 18, and Sunday, May 19. Both performances will start at 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome and there is no charge. Blankets may be brought for sitting on the ground.

PICADILLO STUFFED PEPPERS

Festive food of Mexico without foreign intrigue

If Mexican food is a restaurant favorite, but the ingredients seem full of foreign intrigue, feel free to experiment with simple flavors to make the exotic dishes.

Colorful, party-perfect Picadillo Stuffed Peppers give testimony to the fact that all south-of-the-border foods are not fiery hot. In this easy-to-prepare spicy-sweet meat mixture, the degree of heat is controlled easily by the cook's choice of mild, medium or hot picante sauce. When serving a crowd, it is advisable to prepare the dish with a mild or medium heat level, and pass additional sauce for spooning over individual servings at the table.

Picadillo also can be served as a festive filling for burritos. Fill and roll them in the kitchen, or pass the meat mixture, cheese and warmed flour tortillas for let guests make their own.

Reminiscent of favorite Mexican restaurant specialties, the sauce is rich and hearty and takes just minutes to prepare.

With either main dish, refried beans, rice and shredded lettuce, tomato and avocado garnish are easy, traditional accompaniments. A basket of tortilla chips with a bowl of picante sauce makes an ideal appetizer.

1 (6-oz.) can tomato paste
2/3 cup picante sauce
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup coarsely chopped slivered almonds, toasted
2 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. cumin
1/4 to 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
4 large red or green peppers
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Monterey Jack cheese

Brown ground beef with onion in 10-inch skillet; drain. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste, picante sauce, raisins, almonds, garlic salt, cumin and cinnamon. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 15 minutes.

While meat mixture cooks, cut peppers in half lengthwise; remove seeds and stems. Parboil 8 minutes; drain.

Immediately spoon meat mixture into peppers; sprinkle with cheese. Serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Enchiladas Elenas
2 tsp. flour
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tsp. bacon drippings or vegetable oil
3 tsp. chili powder

1 cup milk
2/3 cup beef broth or bouillon
1/2 cup picante sauce
1/2 tsp. oregano
1/2 tsp. cumin
1 lb. process cheese spread, cubed
Oil
12 corn tortillas
4 cups (16 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
1 cup chopped onion

Cook flour and garlic in drippings over low heat, stirring constantly, until flour is lightly browned. Stir in chili powder.

Gradually add milk, beef broth, picante sauce, oregano and cumin. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, 5 minutes.

Add process cheese spread; stir until melted.

Heat about 1/2-inch oil in small skillet until hot but not smoking. Quickly fry each tortilla in oil to soften, about 5 seconds on each side. Drain on paper towels.

Dip each tortilla into sauce mixture. Fill with about 1/4 cup cheese and sprinkle with onion. Roll and place seam side down in 13x9x2-inch baking dish. Spoon remaining sauce evenly over enchiladas; top with remaining cheese.

Bake at 350° for 15 minutes or until hot. Serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

'Dry soup' called sopa seca de tortilla

1 medium onion, chopped
2 tsp. oil
3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes (about 3 medium)
1 tsp. oregano
1/2 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
10 (6-inch) corn tortillas, cut into 12 wedges each
1 (3-oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened

1/2 cup picante sauce
3/4 cup shredded cheddar or Monterey Jack cheese

Cook onion in oil in saucepan until tender but not brown. Add tomatoes, oregano, sugar and salt. Bring to a boil; simmer 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Fold in tortillas.

Combine cream cheese, picante sauce and 1/2 cup of shredded cheese; fold into tortilla mixture.

Spoon into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes or until heated through.

Top with remaining 1/4 cup cheese. Serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Chili salsa flavors rice de Mexico

3 tablespoons oil
1 cup long-grain rice
1/2 small onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 can (7 ounces) Ortega Mild Green Chile Salsa
1 can (1 1/2 fluid ounces) chicken broth
1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro or parsley (optional)

In skillet, heat oil. Add rice; cook and stir until lightly golden. Add onion and garlic. Cook until onion is tender. Stir in salsa and broth. Bring to boil; cover and reduce heat. Cook 20 minutes, or until all liquid has been absorbed. Add cilantro or chopped parsley and toss lightly, if desired. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Short sweet treats from around the kitchen

Sugar biscuits

1/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 can (9.5 oz.) refrigerated biscuits, separated
3 tbsp. butter or margarine, melted
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
Combine sugar and cinnamon. Roll each biscuit on all sides in butter and then in sugar mixture. Place coated biscuit into cup of muffin pan. Make a large, deep thumbprint in center of each biscuit. Fill with equal amount of walnuts. Bake in preheated 400° oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. Yields 10 biscuits.

Bacon slices

Separate and place slices of bacon side by side in cold frying pan. Cook over low heat until crisp, turning frequently with tongs, about 6 minutes.
Remove bacon from pan with tongs and place on absorbent paper to drain.
Microwave directions: Separate and place 2 to 6 slices of bacon on microwave-safe plate or on absorbent paper in microwave-safe baking dish. Cover with absorbent paper or waxed paper. Cook on high power about 1 minute per slice for 1 to 4 slices. Add 45 seconds per slice when cooking 5 to 6 slices. If crisp bacon is desired, let stand 3 minutes before serving.

Pastitso pasta

1 lb. elbow macaroni
3 well-beaten eggs
1 lb. ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
1 crushed garlic clove
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1 cup dry nonfat milk
2 1/2 cups water
2 tsp. butter
1 cup grated parmesan cheese
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water 10 minutes. Rinse and drain. Stir eggs into macaroni.
Brown ground beef, onion and garlic in medium saucepan. Drain off excess fat.
Stir in tomato sauce, parsley, cinnamon, nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and boil gently 15 minutes, stirring constantly.
Melt 1/2 cup butter in medium saucepan over medium heat. Stir in flour, dry nonfat milk, and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt. Slowly stir in water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture just comes to a boil and thickens.
Melt 2 tablespoons butter in 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking dish. Layer ingredients in dish as follows: Half the pasta, meat filling, 1/2 the cheese, remaining pasta, cream sauce and remaining cheese. Sprinkle lightly with more cinnamon.
Bake in 350° oven 25 minutes, or until heated through. Cool 10 minutes. Cut into squares to serve. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Cheese veggies

1 pkg. (32 oz.) frozen prepared Salisbury steak
1 tsp. hot water
2 tsp. instant chicken bouillon granules
2 cups frozen hash brown potatoes
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped broccoli
2 tsp. butter or margarine
2 tsp. flour
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 cup milk
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
1 can (2.8 oz.) French-fried onion rings
Prepare Salisbury steak according to microwave package instructions. Let stand, covered.
In 1 1/2-quart round glass casserole, combine hot water and bouillon granules. Add potatoes and broccoli. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at high 6 to 9 minutes, or until hot, stirring occasionally. Set aside.
In 2-cup glass measure, place butter. Microwave at high 30 seconds to 1 minute, or until melted. Stir in flour and pepper. Blend in milk. Microwave at high 4 to 5 minutes, or until thickened, stirring frequently. Mix in cheese.
Pour over vegetables. Sprinkle onion rings on top. Microwave at high 1 to 2 minutes, or until warm. Serve with Salisbury steak. Makes 6 servings.

1 cup red grapes, halved and seeded if necessary
Snipped chives
Season fish with salt and pepper. Dredge in flour and shake off excess.

Melt butter in skillet. Cook fish on both sides, turning once, allowing a total cooking time of 10 minutes per inch of thickness or until fish is golden brown and flakes when tested with a fork. Remove fish to platter; keep warm.
Add wine to skillet; scrape up browned particles.

Add cream and mustard; boil until slightly thickened and reduce to about 1/4 cup.
Stir in grapes; season to taste with salt and pepper. Cook just until grapes are thoroughly heated. Spoon over fish. Garnish with chives. Makes 2 servings.

Achievers

25-YEAR SERVICE as advisers to teenage Junior Achievement companies in Granite City has been recognized by JA of Mississippi Valley. Shown being honored at the 1985 Future Unlimited banquet in St. Louis are Leroy Randolph (left) and Vincent Lohmeyer, local residents who are retired from American Steel Foundries. Non-profit JA, supported by local industries and businesses, teaches free enterprise to Quad-City high school students, who create and operate miniature firms, handling all planning, production and sales.

Grand openings discussed

A regular monthly meeting of the Madison Business Association will be held Tuesday, May 14, at 5:30 p.m. in the Firemen's Hall, 1329 Third St., with Bruce Kepner of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service as speaker.

Among the topics to be discussed by MBA members are the grand openings in June of Pace Hardware, Voloski's Restaurant and the First National Bank in Madison, and special promotions and activities for upcoming months. Refreshments will be served.

Kepner is area adviser, business and economic development, of the Region 8 Extension Office in Edwardsville.

Prior to joining the Cooperative Extension Staff, Kepner was director of the Department of Community Development for the City of Rockford. He had been the economic development specialist for the department before becoming director in 1982.

He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1975 with a master's degree in economics. He had received his bachelor's degree, also in economics, in 1973 from Illinois State University. He has attended the National Development Council's Development Financing Training Program and the American Economic Development Council's Economic Development Institute. Kepner has written a strategic plan for local-level economic development, designed and implemented Rockford's "business assistance program," packaged development projects that were successful in obtaining federal funding through the UDAG program and EDA, and developed a city loan program for small businesses that involved area lenders for joint project financing.

He was the administrator for one of the first eight designated center prize zones in Illinois and completed the marketing and sale of a city industrial park.

Data will aid handicapped youths

A database of special education resources categorized by audience, title, subject area, handicapping condition and publisher? A clearinghouse to provide information about computer software for use by and with the nation's four-and-a-half million children with handicaps?

The dream has become a reality. The U.S. Department of Education (Special Education Programs) responded to the concept so well that in June it funded the Special Education Software Center, with information sources provided by LINC Resources, 3657 North High St., Columbus, Ohio, 43214. Today, the database is operable, and a toll-free phone number (1-800-327-5892) makes it accessible to anyone who wants to call for information about computer software for the handicapped.

Private-industry endorsements and support for the federally funded effort have multiplied. Word-of-mouth publicity has generated daily phone and mail requests for service. And Center staff members have met the requests to the best of their ability with one hand while they built the database with the other.

From the first, Tandy Corporation thought enough of the clearinghouse concept to provide a TRS-80 on a permanent free-of-charge loan to the Center for at least three years.

A long list of public and private professionals agreed to serve on the Center's advisory board: Kim Allard, director, SECTOR Project at Utah State University; Baxter Burke, national advisor of special education programs at IBM; the executive director of the American Association of School Librarians, Alice Pitt; BRS/Saunders' director of new product development, Joe Florio; Joe Marsala, senior systems analyst at the Library of Congress; Ohio State University's office automation specialist at the University Systems Computer Center, Carl Oldsen; AT&T's Mel Pflager, manager of consumer information services, consumer products division; Dennis Tanner, education director, Radio Shack education division; and Virginia Woods, media consultant and a special education teacher in Austin, Texas.

By late fall, Pflager Baker, information specialist at the Center, had begun to contact software producers and distributors. And she had begun to get responses. Entries into the Center database are made from these responses — nominations of a company's software products for inclusion in the database.

Many responses came with a personal touch. One company official added the note, "A majority of the programs on these two disks were originally written for my handicapped daughter who was 13 at the time with a mental age of about six." A special consultant to the California State Department of Education included his letter with personal praise and the promise of many referrals.

Nearly one of every two Americans is personally involved with an individual who is handicapped, estimates indicate, and the steadily increasing number of requests received by the Center tells the human side of the work being done.

A father in Mt. Prospect heard about the Center in October and made the long-distance call to the Ohio number. The man's daughter, whose cerebral palsy renders her coordination poor and leaves her with no ability to speak or walk, uses a software program that allows her to communicate. He wanted to make sure that the program was listed in the new clearinghouse database.

"We are looking for software that would help him learn survival skills and money skills at an adult level."

A mother in Seattle wrote, "I have a four-year-old son who is deaf. In October I bought him an IBM PCjr. I hope that special education software will be developed for the IBM PCjr. What is available?"

From Lancaster, Ohio, came the following: "I am a disabled consumer, who also is a psychologist, special education teacher and home-based business person. I'm working with a sixteen-year-old visually impaired boy on an Apple IIe. What programs do you know of that would be of benefit?"

Another professional from Waban, Mass., wrote, "I'm working with a young man who is 21 years old who is eligible for special education services. He has tubular sclerosis and has been in and out of the special classes in public school. This disease is in arrest now. We are looking for software that would help him learn survival skills and money skills at an adult level."

A Boise, Idaho, reader of "Down's Syndrome News" — which had carried the story of the original contract award — wrote to ask about adapting a keyboard for her five-year-old son.

According to Baker, the one thing that has already become clear about the Center's users and potential users is their diversity.

Senators fishing for new industries with new lures

Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, is backing a plan to "put Illinois back on its feet and in the competition for business and industry." He cited an eight-bill package newly introduced by the Illinois Senate Democratic Caucus.

"The rest of the country has bounced back from the recession. Illinois has not."

"While federal employment is at record levels, we in Illinois have less job today than we had in 1979. Our share of jobs in the nation has declined from 7 percent in 1950 to 4.9 percent in 1984," the local senator said.

"If Illinois had recovered as fully as the nation from the last recession, an additional 250,000 jobs would be available in the state today."

The eight bills are:

- Senate Bill 655, Expands the state's enterprise zone program to include an expansion of the investment credit, utility tax refund and job provisions.

— SB 321, Expands the manufacturing, machinery and equipment sales tax exemption to include state-of-the-art, high technology manufacturing equipment.

— SB 318 and 1458, Enlarge the authorization of the Illinois Development Finance Authority Land Bank Program to permit the Authority to purchase land and buildings for future use by a relocating business or industry.

— SB 329, Permits the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) to provide grants of up to 50 percent of the cost of worker compensation and unemployment insurance for five years, to companies establishing new or expanding manufacturing facilities in the state.

— SB 660, Authorizes local governments to abate property taxes for commercial property of new or expanding firms.

— SB 319 and SB 1408, Establish the High Impact Business Program in DCCA to offer special incentives to business and assist small business through increased state procurement contracts.

"We have laid the foundation for 'economic recovery,'" Vadalabene said.

"The Prairie State 2000 plan, introduced and passed by the Senate majority in 1983, established the groundwork for getting the Illinois economy back on its feet."

"This new initiative complements the Prairie State plan and further includes additional incentives to attract big business to Illinois."

USO center is being expanded

McDonnell-Douglas Employee Charity and Community Services has donated $3,855 to the James S. McDonnell USO computer fund. Support for the USO has been shown in volunteer hours as well as funds and food supplies donated by the employees.

The Lambert Airport-based USO (United Service Organization) has just announced a 900-square-foot addition. This will bring it from 2,400 square feet when opened in September 1981 to 4,800 square feet upon completion this summer.

The increased number of servicemen and women and their families who use the USO while en route to or from overseas created the need to double the size of the luggage area, storage area and office and to furnish the "casual corner" with recliner chairs.

1st Bank praised for its student loan credit

Governor James R. Thompson has thanked First Granite City National Bank for its active role in making student loans and providing a line of credit to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Such financing provides the necessary capital for Illinois' secondary market for student loans, the Illinois Designated Account Purchase Program (IDAPP), Thompson said.

The governor said in his personal letter to Tom Holloway, president of First Granite City National Bank, "This line of credit financing enabled IDAPP to have secondary market services available to Illinois lenders making student loans. As a result of the "bond" between your institution and IDAPP, more lenders have capital available to actively make additional student loans."

Thompson commended First Bank for its commitment to the student loan program statewide. The bank is a partner, along with 28 other Illinois lenders, in providing a $72 million line of credit for the state scholarship commission.

More than $400 million was loaned to 169,234 Illinois students last year.

Venice schools considering modernization of system, repairs

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Several projects are needed to update the facilities at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, including computerizing the attendance records system, Peter Ponce, VLT director, informed the Venice Board of Education at its meeting Thursday night.

"This is a problem we should have considered some years ago," Ponce said, noting the present IBM 80-digit card system has become outdated.

He said it was becoming increasingly difficult to get the cards necessary to use in the present system, adding "There are only two places left in St. Louis which make the (computer) cards and soon there may be none."

Although its operation is financed with federal and state funds, the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, an adult vocational-education school, is administered by the Venice School Board, which must approve purchases.

Ponce advised the board he will be looking into the expense of installing an IBM-PC computer system this summer.

The technical center's telephone system is equally outdated, the director said. "We are paying over $75 a month to Illinois Bell for equipment rental and I can't see paying this amount for years to come."

He said the phone company has offered to sell the present system to the school at a cost of $1,300, but noted he is also discussing a telephone network with a representative of another company.

Ponce told the board repairs have been made to the center's 16-year-old clock and bell system, which is now working adequately.

"Some parts for the machinery may not be made any longer and we may have to purchase a new one in the future," he said.

He asked permission also to look into buying a new copying machine. The present copier has reached the 368,000 copy mark and the age of the machine is unknown.

Venice Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said the machine formerly was used by the Venice public schools, adding "I know that copier has quite a few years on it."

The VLT director said further information is not yet available on funding of summer school sessions at the adult training center, but that he expects to have information soon on staff requirements.

A proposal to operate summer school at the adult center has been accepted by the Illinois State Board of Education and the Illinois Department of Public Aid, Ponce announced April 25.

The school usually operates on a 9-month class schedule. This year, however, plans are being made to start a summer semester June 3 and continue through Aug. 23.

Reviewing proposed repairs and remodeling projects at the Venice public schools, Vickers said some difficulties are in the way, including lack of money in the district's building fund.

"We will have to use about $20,000 in tax anticipation warrants to get the necessary things done. No more than $25,000 should be used," the superintendent cautioned.

Among proposed projects discussed by Vickers were painting work in the high school building and grade school hallways. He noted, "It has been 7 or 8 years since such work was done."

"Practically all of the draperies in the school are in horrible shape and we are proposing to use window film in the classrooms instead of draperies," he said.

Remodeling the girls' shower area, replacing the hardware, and calling for bids to put the baseball field in shape during the summer months also must be considered, he said, adding, "There are three of four very large cracks in the asphalt on the playground-parking area which must be fixed before another winter."

Additional floor outlets are needed in the business education department and scaffolding for use by custodians also is to be purchased. All of the items have been discussed at earlier board sessions, he said.

Although roofs on the school buildings appear to be in "pretty good" condition, Vickers advocated that an inspection be made. He said a proposal from Power Miser Co., should be scrutinized to see if the district could save on energy costs. Breezeway doors are in terrible shape, the superintendent said, lower portions of doors are rusted out and the frames are bent.

"All of these things should be done, but we will have to list them in priority form," Vickers said.

Board President Wilbert Glasper suggested that, before a decision is made, board members tour the schools to inspect the various projects. It was agreed to make the inspection trip at 8 p.m. Monday, May 13.

Facilities ready to receive real estate tax payments

Granite City Treasurer Nick Petrillo's office will be ready to receive payments on real estate taxes from residents of Granite City Township on Monday, May 13. Petrillo said residents may make the payments from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays at his office, which is located in City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

Residents may also make the payments at four local banks — American Heritage Bank of Granite City, Nameoki and Fehling Roads, Colonial Bank of Granite City, 2500

Pontoon Road at Maryville Road, First Granite City National Bank, 2011 Street and Edison Avenue, and Central Bank of Granite City, 1909 Edison Ave. Payments may be made at these facilities during regular banking hours, he said.

Tax books were received locally on Thursday, and the process of mailing tax bills also was started at that time by Madison County officials, Petrillo said. The billing is occurring nearly four months earlier than was the case last year.

Jaycess hosting bike event on June 2

Granite City area youngsters will participate in a Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon at the Granite City Army Depot on Sunday, June 2, from 12 noon to 5 p.m. The event is open to anyone wishing to help children and young adults who suffer with cystic fibrosis, a fatal lung and digestive damaging disease.

George Schwendemann, Granite City Jaycee chairman of the bike-athon, said registration will begin at 12 noon on June 2 at the Depot.

To enter, Granite City residents are to obtain sponsor sheets by contacting Schwendemann at 451-1836.

After obtaining sponsors among friends, relatives and neighbors, participants will ride for a minimum of 10 cents per mile. Following the bike-athon, pledges will be collected based on the number of miles each participant rides. Prizes will be awarded to participants based on the amount of money raised.

Attends building service contractors trade show

A local building service contractor, Jim Rush of AAA Maintenance Janitorial Service Inc., Granite City, has returned from the 21st annual convention and trade show of the Building Service Contractors Association International at the Hyatt Regency Illinois Center, Chicago.

Rush and his wife, Tami, heard speakers and panelists discuss diversifying services to meet the expanding needs of building operators. Service contractors were described as part of a $13 billion industry that includes janitorial, floor and carpet care, window cleaning, care of equipment, and maintenance of buildings, grounds and lighting.

In IHSA Sectional Meet

Brandt is GCHS' only state track qualifier

East St. Louis Dominates Meet

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — They pulled a fast one on the Illinois High School Association.

When the IHSA raised the state qualifying standards for the discus four feet from a year ago, they probably had no idea this would happen.

Last year, five representatives from this area earned state berths — the most from any sectional.

This year with the new mark upped to 119-feet, four people — including Granite City's Debbie Brandt — qualified for next weekend's state championships in the discus.

Both the shot put and the discus produced the most individual state qualifiers of any event in the 12th annual Girls' Sectional track meet held Friday at Belleville East High School.

As expected Lincoln won the team championship piling up 108 points. The Tigertettes, seeking their fourth straight state championship, captured their first place in 12 of the 16 events.

Brandt gained the Warriors lone berth to the state finals earning her third straight trip to Charleston.

And, the suspense wasn't nearly as great as it had been her junior year.

A year ago, Brandt needed her final throw to advance. This year the job at hand was accomplished in the preliminaries.

"I'm just glad I got it over with," Brandt said as she sat outside the discus area awaiting the finals to begin.

"It takes a lot of pressure off. People expect so much and you expect to do it (go the state). But, when you get here it's tough."

Brandt, recorded a throw of 127-feet, 10-inches and placed second to O'Fallon's Kristi Baum, The Panther senior shattered a three-year-old record held by Toni Wallace of Lincoln.

Her winning loss was 140-feet, 1-inch. The old mark was 136-4/16. With the pressure off as the discus finals began, Brandt was looking for a good throw to place her high in the state seedings.

"I feel really good," she said afterwards. "I let it (the meet) bother me at first, but I went over by myself and got it straightened out."

While Brandt will extend her high school track career at least one more week, for the other Granite City athletes they — like the old Brooklyn Dodgers — must wait 'til next year.

The Warriors were shut out in the other events. The highest place a Warrior runner would finish was sixth.

Distance specialist Lora Wiser entered only the 1,600-meters and placed sixth. Collinsville's Pam Quarenghi and Joan Simmons of Lincoln finished 1-2 in the event.

For Wiser, it was only the second time she had run in a meet this year and the first time competing in the 1,600.

"It's not too bad for having only two weeks to prepare for the race," Wiser said of her effort.

For Wiser this has been a frustrating season ever since she turned her ankle on a rock while running in the park during a workout.

She damaged ligaments and tissue and spent most of the early season in a cast.

"There is always next year," Wiser said.

"I'm not disappointed. Everybody kept saying 'I'll go to state but I didn't want to get my hopes up too much,'" she said. "I didn't know what to expect."

But Wiser is only a junior and will be back.

As will her twin sister, Lisa who was entered in both the 400 and the long jump. Lisa advanced to the finals of the long jump, but faced stiff competition.

Granite City also got a promising effort from sophomore Teri Selph in the discus. Selph recorded her best throw of the season in the finals. Her heave of 113-feet, 9-inches was five feet farther than what she threw at the county meet. At Edwardsville, Selph took second in the county with a toss of 108-feet.

Selph credits Coach Ron Yates and an unlikely source for her improvement.

1,600-RELAY: 1. LINCOLN (3:45.3); 2. O'FALLON; 3. Highland.

"Coach Yates has helped me out a lot this year, but Katie Brauer (of Belleville East) taught me a new technique," Selph said.

"She taught me a new motion that will slow me down in the back (of the throw) and speed me up in the front."

Selph said Brauer, who placed fourth in the shot put, gave her the tip during the Southwestern Conference meet. "We have gotten to be real good friends."

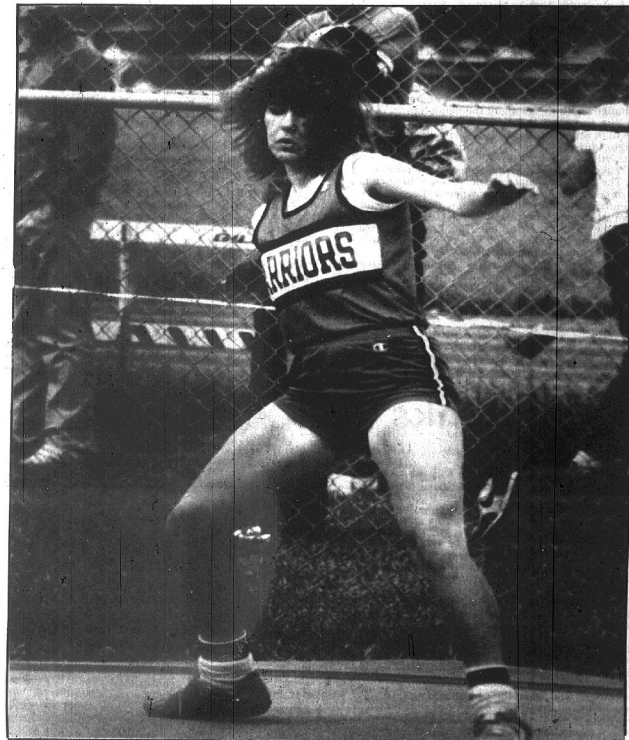

Overall, Lincoln's Nicole Thompson was the meet's only double winner, winning the 100 and 200 hurdles.

Thompson's effort in the 100 hurdles (13.5) bettered her own sectional record by a tenth of a second.

East Side's Phoebe Washington won the 100 in 12.0, a tenth of a second off the meet record. Lincoln's Rosalyn Rucker took the 400 yard telematic Celisa Shy won the 800-meters.

Belleville West's Tammy Dill won the 3,200-meters while Lincoln's Maria Cotton took the high jump.

Lincoln took all four relays with East Side taking second in three of those races. The Flyers were disqualified in the 1,600 relay for STATEBOUND. The Warriors' Debbie Brandt coils to launch the discus in flight at the 12th annual Class AA girls sectional track meet Friday. Brandt placed second in the discus and qualified for the IHSA state meet next weekend in Charleston. It was the third year in a row in which Brandt has advanced to the state championships.

Brandt signs with Westminster College

Debbie Brandt, a senior at Granite City High School, has been awarded a volleyball and track scholarship to Westminster College in Fulton, Mo.

Brandt plans to major in business while attending the school.

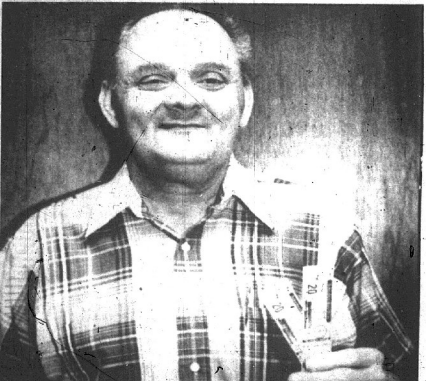

During her four years of high school, Brandt lettered three years in volleyball (serving one year as captain); three years in basketball (two years as captain) and four years in varsity track.

The last two years Brandt, qualified for the IHSA track championships placing 17th and 4th, respectively, statewide in the discus.

A three-year member of the high school lettermen's club (serving as Sergeant of Arms) Brandt was selected by the Granite City Elks Club as one of its students of the month.

Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brandt of Granite City.

Bulldogs Win Abbreviated Game

Waterloo bowls over Trojans

By JOE THOMPSON

Staff writer

MADISON — A funny thing happened to the Waterloo High baseball Bulldogs on their way to making Madison their fifth victim by the 10-run rule.

The Bulldogs did it, but the Trojans made it a lot tougher than what it first appeared.

The Bulldogs won, 11-1, here Thursday, to lift their record to 16-5.

The Cahokia Conference power jumped out in front with nine runs in the first inning. Five hits off Trojan hurler Nathan Young, one a booming triple by Jim Turley and a double by Jeff Louer, opened the way.

But the Trojans helped out with three passed balls by catcher John Browley and three walks from Young.

"I was trying to let the defense play for me," said Young, who had not settled into a rhythm in his first mound appearance in a while. "We had a couple of errors. I made a couple of bad throws... in the dirt."

"Most of the games we've played this year we've had a bad first inning," Young said, looking mildly bewildered.

But after the cloud of dust kicked up by Waterloo's nine first inning runs settled, the Trojans toughened up.

The Trojans scored a run in the fourth inning when Dennis "Pedro" Vauters rapped a savage hit off the shin of Waterloo pitcher Mark Gaby.

When third baseman Mark Vogel picked up the caromed ball only to throw it wide of first, Andre Cooper scored from second. Cooper had walked and stolen second base to set up the run.

The Bulldogs managed a run in the fourth and fifth innings to close down the victory after five innings.

"We're proud of them," Trojan coach Ron Crader said, of his troops. "They really hung in there."

"The score was lopsided," Crader said. "But it was not necessarily an indication of the game."

Browley allowed four passed balls, but unlike his glove which he said was worn out, there was nothing second rate about his arm. Browley gunned out two would be base stealers.

Browley's rifle arm throwing set the tone for the Trojans' defense in the middle innings. Silas sparked in center field, hauling down several long flies. Marshall played flawlessly at shortstop as did Cooper at third base and Patrick "Pete" Glasper in left.

Young, his rhythm arriving after giving up seven first inning hits but only four the rest of the way, let his defenseman play — and they responded.

The Trojans played so well, their one miscue after the first inning led to a run enabling the Bulldogs to end the game early.

The Bulldogs' Turley led off the fourth inning by hitting safely for the third time. He reached second on a flagged down long drives by Ron Tedder and Frank Smith. It appeared the Trojans might get out of the inning unscathed.

But Price, the next batter, walked. After reaching first, Price allowed himself to get into a rundown between first and second. Young left the mound in pursuit, and when he did, Turley left third base for home plate.

"I was yelling to Nathan, 'Home, home,'" Crader said. "But he didn't hear."

Turley scored, but there was one consolation. The Trojans tagged Price. "We got the out at least," Crader said.

When your team scores nine runs in the first inning. "We try to keep momentum and concentration. We try to play well all the time," Bulldog coach Lionie Fulton said.

It appeared, however, as if the Trojans gained momentum. At the end of the game, the home team players yelled a big roar. The reason?

"We play Venice Saturday," one Trojan explained.

The Trojans couldn't have hurt their chances any by their play the last four innings Thursday.

"It would have been really easy for them to pack it in," Fulton said. "Give them credit for that. They really hung in there good."

Academics and Athletics

For GCHS kickers 'heady play' means more than soccer

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

There seems to be a shift in athletics, back to the traditional values, back to the basics and conservative values.

No, I'm not talking about a shift away from drug abuse in the National Baseball League, although that's a welcome coming. No, I'm referring to the return of values in the amateur ranks, particularly college. A return to the theory that academics, not athletics, is most important.

There was a time — not too long ago — when story after story was reported by either the newspapers or an evening news program where an athlete suddenly dropped or flunked out of school after that college or university consumed his athletic eligibility. The symptoms were always the same — a brilliant athlete, usually from a deprived social background, and whose literary skills rivaled that of a third grader.

It's always a sad story.

What always troubled me about such situations was the revelation that after 3-4 years of college, the athlete couldn't make the grade. Somehow, it took the college or university that long — after he was no longer useful to the institution — that this 21-year-old athlete didn't have the right stuff to earn a diploma.

For awhile it seemed free-throw percentages were more important than a student's GPA.

But, I guess it's like anything and everything. Liberal values and thinking eventually give way to more conservative and then back again. Everything changes with the swing of the pendulum.

But, you know there's always been a lot of stability in high school athletics. High school's never been lost sight of that perspective. Academics first, then athletics.

Take Granite City High School, for example.

The coaches I deal with never seem to have any problem benching a player when he becomes academically ineligible. Not only does it go against the IHSA bylaws established for eligibility, but the coaches feel if their athletes can't make it in the classroom then they don't want them on the hardwood or the playing field.

And despite these infrequent "benchings," the Warriors have been very successful.

Perhaps the most successful has been Granite City High's boys' soccer program. Led by Coach Gene

In the Spotlight

By Alan L. Gerstenecker

Executive Sports Editor

Baker, the Warriors are not only the most successful program in the state, but they are also, I'm willing to bet, the most sought after by colleges and universities.

Here's what I mean: Granite City High School's soccer team fielded 12 seniors last year, the most it's had in several years.

Of those 12 senior athletes, how many will go on to college? What's the average? Sixty-five percent. Seventy percent.

Hold on folks because here comes the clincher. All 12 plan to go on to college. One hundred percent of last year's seniors. How's that for realizing the need of higher education?

What? You say many of them are scholarships and some might not be going if they had not received those scholarships? Well, that's probably true.

But so what. What if that's true?

These young men are using their athletic abilities, their bodies to further their minds.

This says two things. First, it speaks very highly of GCHS' soccer program. The record books show that it's the best the state and, obviously, the coaches feel that there's something here that they want.

Secondly, there must be something about the program and at GCHS which is impressing upon these young people to further their education.

To find part of that driving force people need look no farther than Baker. An English teacher at the high school, Baker is the perfect role model for these impressionable young people.

A former soccer great at St. Louis University, Baker impresses upon his players to go to college, to get an education and to play soccer. Use soccer to further their education.

But not only does he stress college, Baker is the biggest seller of GCHS' soccer program. He sells his program and he sells his athletes to college coaches. Perhaps the biggest reason the Warriors have 100 percent of their seniors attending college is Baker.

During the last two months, when he's been laid up in a cast, he's written letters, made telephone calls, done nearly everything to find colleges for his athletes who wish to attend.

"We can't guarantee anything, just like you don't know how a season is going to turn out," Baker said.

"But I tell them that if they're a solid part of our program and a good student in the classroom things will work out. I can recommend them to a college coach. Most often things work out."

"It's a mutually beneficial arrangement. The college is looking for a good student athlete and these young people are looking for an education. It's a good situation for them, the college and our high school," Baker said.

Indeed it is.

The following is an up-to-date list where

T senior members of the 1984 soccer team will be attending college next year.

MIKE HOUSTON: North Texas State University

Mike will join former teammate Matt Sheridan at

Houston to U of I-Chicago. Sheridan to North Texas State

NTSU. At three-year varsity letterman, Houston was the Warriors' team captain last year. At 6-foot 1-inch tall and 187 pounds, he scored six goals and assisted on another 10.

JEB BLASINGAME: University of Illinois-Chicago — Also a three-year starter, Blasingame made his mark in the record books when he became the first sophomore goalkeeper to guide a team to a state championship (1982). Not only is Blasingame an outstanding athlete, but he also possesses leadership qualities. He is president of the senior class. He joins former teammate Troy Moore in U of I.

BRENT COOK, DAVE BAGGETTE, FRANK SOELLNER: Rockford College — These three are going to college in the "group plan or buddy system."

Seriously though, every couple of years one college or university seems to be particularly interested in a group of Granite City athletes. Two years ago it was Western Illinois University when Tony Segoliano, Rich Branding, Barry Grote and John Menendez became Leathernecks.

SCOTT GHOTE: Western Illinois University — Seattle will join his brother and the rest of Warrior clan which has been extended since '82 to include Nathan Crane.

GREG GOBBLE: Illinois State University — Greg will join former Warriors Fritz Brewer, Jim Kelahan and Scott Vickers at the Redbird camp this fall. In addition to Gobble, former Warriors Jim Gibson and Phil Popmarkoff will attend ISU this fall.

DEREK MERZ, ALLEN ZENTGRAF, MIKE DENNIS: Sauk Valley Junior College — These three kickers will play in the junior college ranks before trying their hand at a larger four-year college. All are fine athletes and should do well for the Sauk Redmen.

MATT MACLAUGHLIN: McKendree College — Mac will be going to Mac this fall. A speedy little guy with a strong leg, MacLaughlin will do well with the Bears. He also joins former teammate Tim Paz at McKendree.

STEVE BRANDING: University of Illinois — From the outset, Steve wanted to attend the University of Illinois. The Illini don't have a soccer team competing in the NCAA, but they do have a club team, and Branding you can bet will earn a way on that team.

Ink Blots... Collins inks three top picks

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Granite City Center basketball coach Terry Collins has every reason to feel optimistic about his first three recruits.

Collins is not one to make excuses for last year's 5-23 record, but well... things just didn't go his or the Stars' way in his inaugural season.

Hired shortly before the junior college season began, Collins filled the vacancy left by Larry Graham at a Madison High School coaching legend now at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

With little or no time to assemble a squad, the Stars began their season with good talent, but less of it than he had hoped. Through the first three games the Stars battled declining numbers, and when the season ended, GCC's squad dwindled to a quintet.

It was a disappointing season.

But, judging by his first three recruits, things could be quite different for Collins and Granite City Center this season. And it may be different enough to erase the memories of 1982.

With three swooping scrolls of a pen, Collins signed three proven athletes Wednesday to join the four he has returning from last year's squad.

Signed are Jeff Pieper, Tyrone Crayton and Perry Jones. The three will join returnees Dewayne Wright, David Welser, Reggie Mullens and Al Johnson.

Pieper is a 6-foot 3-inch, 200-pound basketball strong man, the role he played for Waterloo-Gibault last year. Collins Pieper who led Gibault, one of the premiere teams in the area last year, "a complete basketball player. Perhaps the best around this far on the Stars' roster."

"Jeff's a very smart player as well. He has the ability to read an offense and react without having to be told to do so."

Area basketball fans may remember Pieper as the cager who led Gibault to an impressive championship in the Columbia-Freeburg Holiday Tournament, a victory that was posted over nearby Venice in the title game.

The Hawks' center and team captain led his team with an average of 19 points per game his senior year. Crayton, a 6-foot 3-inch 175-pounder, is a 1984 graduate of McKinley (St. Louis) High School. He led the Missouri State 3A championship his senior season.

A fine jumper with a 36-inch vertical leap, Crayton is expected to be the Stars' key rebounder this season. Coming to GCC, he rejoins former McKinnety teammate Wright, also a member of that Missouri state championship team.

"Tyrone's a very enthusiastic young man," Collins said in his assessment of Crayton. "He plays the game with a lot of intensity. He's an excellent jumper, but needs to further develop his jump shot. We're going to be working on his outside shooting."

At 6-foot 4-inches, Jones is the tallest of the three recruits, and may be the Stars' brightest surprise. "Perry's an excellent player, and I think he'll be our biggest surprise. He's an excellent basketball player who, I believe, was overlooked by other colleges."

"He's a fine young man — he's coachable, a hard worker — who will fit well into our game," Collins said. Also a member of a state championship team, Jones graduated in 1984 from Vashon (St. Louis) High School. And, like Crayton, his alma mater competes in the always-tough St. Louis Public High League. A forward, Jones helped the Wolverines to their Missouri State 4A state championship in 1984.

"We should have a pretty good team," Jones said shyly. "Our goal is to win it all. We want to turn that record around, make it 23-0 or better yet 28-0," Jones said.

Joining a self-evaluation of his efforts, Jones expects his largest contribution to the team to come when he's under the basket. Pulling down 12 rebounds his senior year at Vashon, he also possesses a jump shot which is effective from the perimeter.

Although Pieper served in a similar role — one of rebounding — for the Hawks last year, Collins anticipates utilizing the brawny Pieper on the outside.

"We're going to have people to rebound," Collins said. "He's a good rebounder, but he's got such a nice jumper that we may be using him outside."

Crayton possesses an aura of confidence that permeates it's evident the moment he begins to speak. "The strongest part of my game?" he said. "Inside. I'm best inside, on defense and offense. I like the short jumpers and I love blocking shots, knocking them into the stands."

The Stars' schedule, which includes 31 games, begins on Nov. 19 as they host Sanford Brown.

Stocker, an All-American forward at Edwardsville, is one of three standout players who have signed letters of intent to play soccer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The three are the first recruits of the season for Cougar Head Coach Bob Guelker.

Besides Stocker, also signing are Bill Pettigrew, a goalkeeper and forward from Dallas, Texas and Tim Amberg, a midfielder from McCluer (St. Louis) High School.

Stocker rewrote the Lewis and Clark Community College record books by scoring 35 goals over the past two seasons. He led the Bucks to a third-place finish in the National Junior College Tournament in both 1982 and 1983.

Stocker was selected the Most Valuable Player in Region XXIII and was named to the All-National Tournament team last year.

Stocker attended Riverview Gardens High School, and was a two-time All-State player in soccer.

He set school records for most goals in a season (30) and in a career (63).

Pettigrew, in turn, has earned All-District and Most Valuable Player awards as a goalkeeper. He is also expected to serve as a back-up goalkeeper, and may fill the void left with the graduation of all three starting forwards in the Cougars' front line from last year's team.

While playing for the Dallas Comets, one of the top 19-year-old teams in the city, Pettigrew scored 13 goals in 12 games. As a goalkeeper at Hillcrest High School, he posted a school record 15 shutouts in 1983 and a 0.47 goals-against average last year.

Among an outstanding ball-handler and playmaker, will rejoin SIUE standouts John Gates, Don Henry, John Stone and Steve Trittschub on the 1985 Cougars. Last year, along with Amberg, the four members of the Cougars led the Scott-Gallagher team to the national championship for players under 19 years of age.

A key play came in the seventh when the Warriors got an insurance run. Staggs walked, advanced on a scramble by Elaine Reinagel and scored on a passed ball.

Against Belleville East on Wednesday, Granite City allowed a run in the top of the seventh and then surrendered an unearned tally in the ninth to drop a 5-4 decision.

Trailing 4-3 in the seventh, East's Sharon Penn singled then went to second and third on two wild pitches. Then, with two strikes on the count, Dana Farley beat out a bunt down the first base line and Penn scored to tie the game.

The Lancers won it on almost the same type of play. Penn's second state second and went to third on an infield out.

Penn scored when Rhonda Richards tapped back to the mound. Granite got the batter out a first, but Alicia Melton's throw home to catcher Sykes was too late to get the lead runner.

"We played a real good ball game," Davis said. "It just seems like our script has been written for us before we get out there."

The Warriors four-run were the result of aggressive baserunning. In the first, Holtcamp tripled to left and scored when the shortstop misplayed the relay from the outfield.

The Warriors second run occurred after Leigh Ann Fanning reached on an error and then crashed into East second baseman Kelly Knollhoff to break up a force out. The ball bounced behind the bag and Fanning raced to third. East shortstop Penn then threw wild to third, allowing Fanning to race home.

In the fourth, Melton reached on an error, then on a play at third, jarred the ball loose and scored.

WOOD RIVER — The road the Warrior softball team has taken this season has been bumpy.

But Granite City found a smooth stretch Thursday at Wood River, taking a 7-6 victory.

"This was important for us," Coach Jim Davis said. "Our girls were getting to the point where they were doubting whether they could win a close game."

Amy Moss got the win, striking out two and walking just two. Granite wound 10 hits — two each by Anne Pulse, Keri Holtcamp and Moss. Karen Sykes, Kim Corey, Kim Amour and Michelle Staggs had the other hits.

"This is the first time we have seen some success from (the running). We just have to continue to do it and hope some teams throw the ball away," Davis said.

Granite City had six hits — three by Holtcamp, who was on base four times. The Lancers had nine hits.

For Granite City, Michelle Morgan pitched eight innings, giving way to Kathy Hutchings who faced three batters in the ninth.

Despite the loss, the Warriors shined on defense. In the sixth, Morgan hustled to cover home after an errant throw to tag a runner-out at the plate. Third baseman Anne Pulse also made two nice plays near the line.

Granite City faces a busy schedule next week beginning with a game Monday at Belleville West. Game time is at 4 p.m.

Schmitt dinner tickets

Bill Schmitt, Granite City High School's legendary wrestling coach now in his final year of coaching, will be honored Saturday, May 18, for his years of service.

Schmitt, who has coached 35 of his 38 career years at GCHS, will be honored by the Granite City Wrestling Club during a retirement dinner at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 4225 Old Alton Road.

For Schmitt, now 63, it promises to be a night to remember.

Food, beer, setups and music will be provided.

Tickets for the event are $10 each and are available at Bill Stearns Auto Center, 4068 Nameoki Road (across from the Pancake House), from Tom Sparks Sr. and at the Granite City Press-Record/Journal sports desk.

Persons seeking further information may call Bill Wiedel at 797-1834 or Sparks at 451-1373.

Tickets are available at Stearns Auto Center Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

GC mat club practicing for Prairie Games

The Granite City Wrestling Club is currently practicing two nights a week in preparation for this summer's Prairie State Games. Persons interested in working out with the team are invited to attend the workouts.

Practicing on Monday and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. at Granite City Center, the Granite City Wrestling Club extends an invitation to those persons interested in training with the club for the Games, which are patterned after the Olympics.

Persons interested in practicing should have an Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation card or a USAWF card. Those persons who don't may join the wrestling federations for $2.

Prairie State registration

Applications are now being accepted for the 1985 Prairie State Games, the state's amateur sports festival patterned after the Olympics.

Application booklets are available at local high schools, colleges, health clubs and other locations. Competition is open to all Illinois residents and will be held in eight regions starting in late May.

The 1985 Games will feature 15 events. Athletes will compete in scholastic and open divisions, according to age.

Regional winners will advance to the finals, scheduled for July 17-21 at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Application fee is $10 and the registration deadline is May 13. For more information persons should write to the Prairie State Games, 160 No. LaSalle, Suite 2000, Chicago 60601, or call (312) 793-4400 or 1-800-THE-GAME.

Paddlers' registration

Paddlers Swim Club will begin registering youths for its swim team on Monday, June 3. Beginning at 8:15 a.m., youths ages 12 years and older should register at 8:15 a.m. at the pool which is located on Johnson Road. Youths eight years and younger will register from 10 a.m. until 10:45 while children 9 through 11 years may register from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m.

Children should be accompanied by a parent when registering. Parents of children who wish to register but cannot make the sign-up sessions may register their children at the above times.

To register, all persons must be Paddler Swim Club members. Diving registration will be June 30.

Guelker camps slated

Applications are being accepted for resident and day campers for the Junior Olympic Soccer Camps, conducted by Bob Guelker.

The two overnight camps are scheduled for Missouri Baptist College in West County July 14-19, and Parks College in Cahokia July 21-26.

For more details, inquiries can be made by contacting the Camp Office at P.O. Box 9363, St. Louis, Mo. 63117, or phone 1-314-567-6760.

Venice free throw tourney signup

Registrations currently are being accepted for a basketball "free throw" contest to be sponsored Saturday, May 25, by the Venice Park District.

Those wishing to take part may register now at the Venice Recreation Center, 325 Broadway, Venice. Charles Collins and Alfred Dale Crawford, recreation directors, said the contest is open to Venice children and youths in six age categories, ranging from 8 years old to 19 and over.

Registration fees are 50 cents for youngsters in the 8-10, 11-12 and 13-14 age groups, and $1 each for those in the 15-16 and 17-18 segments of the contest. Participants 19 and older will pay a $2 registration fee.

The rules call for three rounds of competition, starting with five warm up shots and 20 contest shots. Those making 10 or more shots advance to the second round.

Additional information about the contest may be obtained by calling Collins, Crawford or Anna Claggett at 451-7201 between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m., park officials said.

YMCA golf tourney June 15

The Tri-City YMCA's Annual Golf Tournament has been slated for Saturday, June 15, at Arlington Golf Course.

A scramble-type tournament, the affair will feature at least three flights of golfers.

Registration fees for the tourney are $50 per person or $200 per team.

Persons seeking further information or wishing to register for the third annual affair should call the YMCA at 459-7200.
